The Issuer will not pay any additional amounts to the holder on account of the Section 871(m) amount deemed withheld.

BNP Paribas Financial Markets S.N.C. will endeavour to make a secondary market in the Certificates, subject to it being satisfied that normal market conditions prevail for the Index

Components. The price for the secondary transaction will be based on the following factors, but not limited to,

- the value of the Custom Index for the day the transaction has been accepted by BNP Paribas Financial Markets S.N.C., if the request has been received before 5pm00 Paris time, and all the Index Components being daily liquid, otherwise on the Custom index level for the next following BNP Paribas Index Level Calculation Date (as defined in the BNP Paribas Flex Indices Index Methodology Supplement) for which all the Index Components can be traded on the market; and Holders should be aware that the secondary market price for any Certificate quoted on or after the fourth (4th) Clearing System business day preceding any date on which the Issuer is due to make a payment thereon, shall exclude the amount so payable per Certificate. The Holder of the Certificates on the record date, as determined by the rules of the relevant Clearing System, shall be entitled to receive or retain any such amount on the due date for payment thereof.

Certificates Holders should be aware that in selecting the Index Components and ensuring that they comply with the BNP Paribas Flex Index Parameters, neither the Index Sponsor nor the Index Allocation Agent is under any obligation to consult them in respect of a BNP Paribas Flex Index Instruction made pursuant to the BNP Paribas Flex Index Parameters. Holders should be aware that BNP Paribas Flex Index Instructions are issued based upon the Index Allocation Agent's assessment of the performance of the Custom Index compared to its Index Objective.

None of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Index Sponsor, the Index Calculation Agent nor any other person of the BNP Paribas group have any role and/or responsibility for the selection of the Index Components. In particular, none of the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Index Sponsor, the Index Calculation Agent nor any other person of the BNP Paribas group accepts any responsibility for any act or omission of the Index Allocation Agent nor shall be required to take any action in this respect (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any legal proceedings as the case may be). Certificates Holders should be aware that, if the Index Sponsor is required to make a determination in respect of the Custom Index, it will not take into account the interests of any Certificates Holders.

The methodology of and rules governing the index (the "Index Methodology" and the "Index") are proprietary and may not be disclosed or disseminated without the permission of the sponsor of the Index (the "Index Sponsor"). None of the Index Sponsor, the index calculation agent (where such party is not also the Index Sponsor, the "Index Calculation Agent") nor, where applicable, the index allocation agent (the "Index Allocation Agent") guarantee that there will be no errors or omissions in computing or disseminating the Index.

The Index Methodology is based on certain assumptions, certain pricing models and calculation methods adopted by the Index Sponsor, the Index Calculation Agent and, where applicable, the Index Allocation Agent, and may have certain inherent limitations. Information prepared on the basis of different models, calculation methods or assumptions may yield different results. Neither BNP Paribas nor any of its affiliates shall be liable for any loss whatsoever, whether arising directly or indirectly from the use of the Index or Index Methodology or otherwise in connection therewith.

The Index Sponsor reserves the right to amend or adjust the Index Methodology from time to time in accordance with the rules governing the Index and accepts no liability for any such amendment or adjustment. Neither the Index Sponsor nor the Index Calculation Agent are under any obligation to continue the calculation, publication or dissemination of the Index and accept no liability for any suspension or interruption in the calculation thereof which is made in accordance with the rules governing the Index. None of the Index Sponsor, the Index Calculation Agent nor, where applicable, the Index Allocation Agent accept any liability in connection with the publication or use of the level of the Index at any given time.

The Index Methodology embeds certain costs in the strategy which cover amongst other things, friction, replication and repo costs in running the Index. The levels of such costs (if any) may vary over time in accordance with market conditions as determined by the Index Sponsor acting in a commercially reasonable manner.

BNP Paribas and/or its affiliates may act in a number of different capacities in relation to the Index and/or products linked to the Index, which may include, but not be limited to, acting as market-maker, hedging counterparty, issuer of components of the Index, Index Sponsor and/or Index Calculation Agent. Such activities could result in potential conflicts of interest that could influence the price or value of a product.

BNP Paribas is not soliciting or recommending any specific action based on this document. Please consider whether the terms of any securities described in this document (the "Securities") are suitable for your particular circumstances. By taking the decision to purchase any such Securities, the indicative or "final form" terms of which are set out in this termsheet, you confirm that (i) you are acting as principal for your own account, have made your own independent decision as to whether or not to purchase the Securities and as to whether such Securities are appropriate and proper for you based upon your own judgement and any advice from such accounting, legal, tax, regulatory and/or other advisors as you have seen fit to consult; (ii) you are not relying on any communication, written or oral, provided to you by BNP Paribas (including the information and explanations provided in this termsheet or in any other material) unless otherwise agreed in writing with BNP Paribas, and you have not received from BNP Paribas any assurance or guarantee as to the expected results of purchasing the Securities; (iii) you have the requisite knowledge and experience and are capable of understanding and assessing the merits of the Securities (by yourself or through receipt of independent professional advice, including in relation to all financial, legal, regulatory, accounting and tax aspects), you understand and accept the terms, conditions and risks involved in purchasing the Securities, and are capable of assuming such risks; and (iv) it is your responsibility to carefully review, and that you have carefully reviewed, the prospectus relating to the Securities (the "Prospectus", which may include, as applicable, a base prospectus or a registration document and any supplements thereto, a securities note, final terms and/or an offering circular) to ensure that you understand all the terms and conditions set out therein, such terms and conditions are acceptable to you and that the Prospectus properly reflects the terms of the Securities that you have decided to purchase.

No action has been or will be taken that would, or is intended to, permit a public offering of the Securities in any jurisdiction other than the jurisdiction(s) identified in this termsheet (if any). If you subscribe for the Securities once issued, these will be sold to you on the understanding that you will comply with all securities laws and public offer requirements in jurisdictions where you place or resell the Securities. As you may not be the only purchaser of the Securities from us, any public offer exemption relying on offers only being made to a restricted number of investors (classified by type or location as applicable) may not be available. In addition, the Securities may not be offered or sold in the United States or to U.S Persons (as defined in regulations under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933 or the U.S. Internal Revenue Code) at any time. The Securities have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the securities laws of any state in the United States, and are subject to U.S Tax requirements. In purchasing the Securities, the purchaser represents and warrants that it is neither located in the United States nor a U.S. Person and that it is not purchasing for the account or benefit of any such person.

Financial instruments of the type described herein may involve a high degree of risk and their value may be highly volatile – see the "Risk Factors" section of the Prospectus for further details. Such risks may include, without limitation: (i) variations in interest rates, exchange rates, correlation, prices or levels of securities, commodities, funds and/or indices, indicators of creditworthiness or perceived creditworthiness of one or more underlying entities; (ii) default or insolvency of one or more underlying entities; (iii) adverse or unanticipated market events or developments, political developments or adverse corporate events involving an underlying security or entity; (iv) risk of illiquidity; (v) sovereign risk; and (vi) legal risk. In addition, where the Securities involve leverage, it must be recognised that whilst leverage presents opportunities to increase profit, it also has the effect of potentially increasing losses and doing so in a relatively short period of time. Such losses may significantly diminish the performance of the Securities or result in loss for you. In addition, the holder of the Securities will either be exposed to (i) the unsecured credit risk of the Issuer and, if applicable, any Guarantor; and/ or (ii) where relevant, the credit risk of any collateral ring-fenced for the purposes of the Securities and that of any swap counterparty, custodian, guarantor or other entity on which the Issuer is relying in order to finance the scheduled cashflows on the Securities. Securities may, under their terms, be principal protected but this does not in and of itself alter or mitigate this credit risk and (unless otherwise stated) principal protection (i) only applies in respect of the nominal amount of the Securities, and (ii) only applies at maturity and hence any redemption prior to maturity may be at less than par. Where Securities are not, under their terms, principal protected, there is also a risk of partial or total loss of the principal amount of the Securities in accordance with their terms, and such Securities should therefore only be considered by persons who can withstand a loss of their entire investment.

Subject to any confidentiality restrictions, BNP Paribas may provide any additional information reasonably requested by you in connection with the Securities. A confidentiality arrangement with BNP Paribas may however be required in order to access any such information. In no circumstances shall BNP Paribas be obliged to disclose to any person any proprietary information or information which it has received on a confidential basis or the existence thereof. Unless otherwise agreed in writing with BNP Paribas, no information provided by BNP Paribas in relation to the Securities shall be considered investment advice or as a recommendation to acquire, hold, dispose of or otherwise deal in any Securities. Unless this document is stated to constitute a "final form" or "dealing" termsheet (however described), any prices quoted are indicative only and actual prices will depend on market conditions at the time the Securities are purchased. In addition, BNP Paribas reserves the right not to issue the Securities or enter into any other transaction in its sole discretion. Although any disclosure materials or analyses provided to you have been prepared based on information we believe to be accurate, BNP Paribas does not represent, warrant or guarantee the accuracy, completeness or reasonableness of any such disclosures or analyses. No representation or warranty is made that any indicative performance will be achieved in the future. Past performance is not indicative of future results. To the extent that any information or analyses are based on information from public sources such information may not have been independently verified by BNP Paribas and is subject to change from time to time. BNP Paribas does not assume any responsibility for the consequences of you entering into or taking (or forbearing from taking) any action in respect of the Securities or any other transaction and BNP Paribas accepts no liability for any direct or consequential losses arising from any action taken in connection with or reliance on the information contained in this document. This Legal Notice shall not be amended except as agreed in writing by BNP Paribas, and shall apply notwithstanding any provision to the contrary (such as a "single agreement" clause) in any contractual documentation governing the Securities or any other related transaction, unless specifically referencing this Legal Notice.

It may be a condition of an amendment, early termination or transfer of the Securities that an amount is paid or received in consideration thereof, and such amount will (subject to the express terms of the Securities) be determined by BNP Paribas, taking into account any factors it deems appropriate, including, without limitation, remaining time to maturity, outstanding notional amount, market prices or levels, liquidity, cost of re-hedging its position, credit risk, interest rates, exchange rates, correlation, default risk, collateral rights and obligations, counterparty risk, capital impact, balance sheet impact, clearing and BNP Paribas' risk or trading positions. The basis of determination of such amount will be disclosed to you at our sole discretion. No representation is given as to the existence of a secondary market for the Securities. Accordingly, purchasers should note that it may not be possible to liquidate or sell the Securities for a substantial period of time, if at all, and if liquidated or sold, the amount realised from such liquidation or sale may be significantly less than the amount paid by the purchaser to purchase the Securities and/ or the present value of the expected cashflows of the Securities. Any reference to an Issue Price herein is not necessarily an expression of the market value of the Securities and the initial placement of the Securities (if issued) by any dealer may be executed at prices above or below such Issue Price.. Any valuation of the Securities (whether made by or for you) may not be indicative of the likely cost to you to hedge the Securities, nor is it indicative of a price which BNP Paribas might, at its discretion or subject to a liquidity commitment, provide to you on request to buy or sell Securities. The price(s) or level(s) at which BNP Paribas might offer to buy or sell the Securities is or are not necessarily an indication of the price(s) or level(s) at which other market participants might buy or sell similar securities and may not necessarily be indicative of the then current market value of the Securities.

Investors should note that BNP Paribas acting as Guarantor is licensed as a credit institution in France and as such is subject to the new resolution regime introduced by the EU Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive of 15 May 2014. This regulation, among others, gives resolution authorities the power to amend the key terms of the Guarantee, to reduce the amounts payable by the Guarantor under the terms of the Guarantee (including a reduction to zero) and convert the amounts due under the Guarantee into shares or other securities. You may not be able to recover all or even part of the amount due under the Certificates (if any) from the Guarantor under the Guarantee or you may receive a different security issued by the Guarantor (or another person) in place of the amount (if any) due to you under the Certificates by the Issuer, which may be worth significantly less than the amount due to you under the Certificates at expiry.
